What should we fight for?

Building a Unified TB Advocacy
Movement

Fanny Voitzwinkler

What should we fight for?

- Greater involvement of civil society and affected communities
- The way we communicate
- Greater political commitment on TB – domestic and EU
- Filling the TB R&D funding gap

TWO FACES OF TB

Efforts to tackle drug-susceptible strains have started to cut the global incidence of TB (left), but collapsing health-care systems in the former Soviet bloc have helped drug-resistant strains to emerge and spread.
